Preface by

Taras Vysotskyi
Deputy Minister for Development of Economy,
Trade and Agriculture of Ukraine

One of the important priorities of the development of foreign economic activity of Ukraine in the agricultural sector is to increase its export potential. Current state of the domestic berry industry shows that in recent years the presence of Ukrainian berry productions in the international arena is growing steadily. Thus, in 2019, Ukrainian producers exported 4,348 tons of berry products to foreign markets with imports of similar products in the amount of 574.7 tons, it means that exports of domestic berry products exceeded imports, depending on the culture, in 3 - 21 times. In this case, the foreign trade balance was:

for garden strawberries and strawberries - 166.1 thousand dollars USA;

for raspberries and blackberries - 1 283.5 thousand dollars USA;

for currants - 11.5 thousand dollars USA;

for blueberries (blueberries) - 8 084,6 thousand dollars USA.

It is important to say, that the export vector depends on culture. If currants and strawberries in previous years were exported mainly to CIS countries (95% and 99% respectively), according to the results of 2019 there was a reorientation towards Europe and only about 60% of currants and 55% of strawberries were exported to the CIS countries, the rest (40% and 30% respectively) - to the EU, mainly to Poland .

Raspberries, blackberries and blueberries are mainly exported to the European Union. More than 80% of raspberries and blackberries were exported to Europe, in particular to Poland. Blueberries (blueberries) are exported to EU countries in the amount of about 70% of total exports, mainly to Poland, the Kingdom of the Netherlands, Great Britain.

In recent years, state support for the industry has resumed. In particular, in 2019, the budget program 1201130 "State support for the development of hop growing, the establishment of young orchards, vineyards and berries and their supervision" provided funding in the amount of 400.0 million hryvnias. These funds were directed to 235 economic entities for partial compensation of the cost of purchasing planting material of fruit and berry crops, grapes and hops - UAH 280.0 million and construction of refrigerators with regulated gas environment and facilities for freezing berry products - UAH 120.0 million.

In 2020, the budget provides UAH 400 million for financial support of horticulture, viticulture and hop growing. Also in the current and subsequent years, a number of additional areas of financial support for industries have been introduced in order to develop the processing industry. Budget funds are provided to business entities by partial reimbursement of the cost of constructed and reconstructed and put into operation completed construction facilities for storage and processing of fruit and berry products, grapes and hops, as well as purchased by business entities fixed assets and goods, work performed and received services, including for new construction and reconstruction of shops of primary processing of technical grades of grapes, fruits and berries of own production, for the purchase of lines for processing home-grown fruits, berries and technical varieties of grapes into juices, purees, wine materials, up to 30 percent of the value (excluding value-added tax).

This will contribute to the production of value-added products and the further increase in export potential.

AN OVERVIEW OF THE UKRAINIAN BERRY MARKET

The main wild berries gathered and marketed include blueberries, blackberries, cranberries, elderberries, lingonberries, and aronia.

Ukraine’s main production of cultivated berries includes strawberries (62,6 thousand tons), raspberries (35,5 thousand tons), black and red currants (26,6 thousand tons), and highbush blueberries (2,39 thousand tons).

Ukraine’s total production of berries by official statistics in 2019 was over 136,5 thousand tons, with exports of 51,3 thousand tons of fresh and frozen berries to 97 countries all over the world.

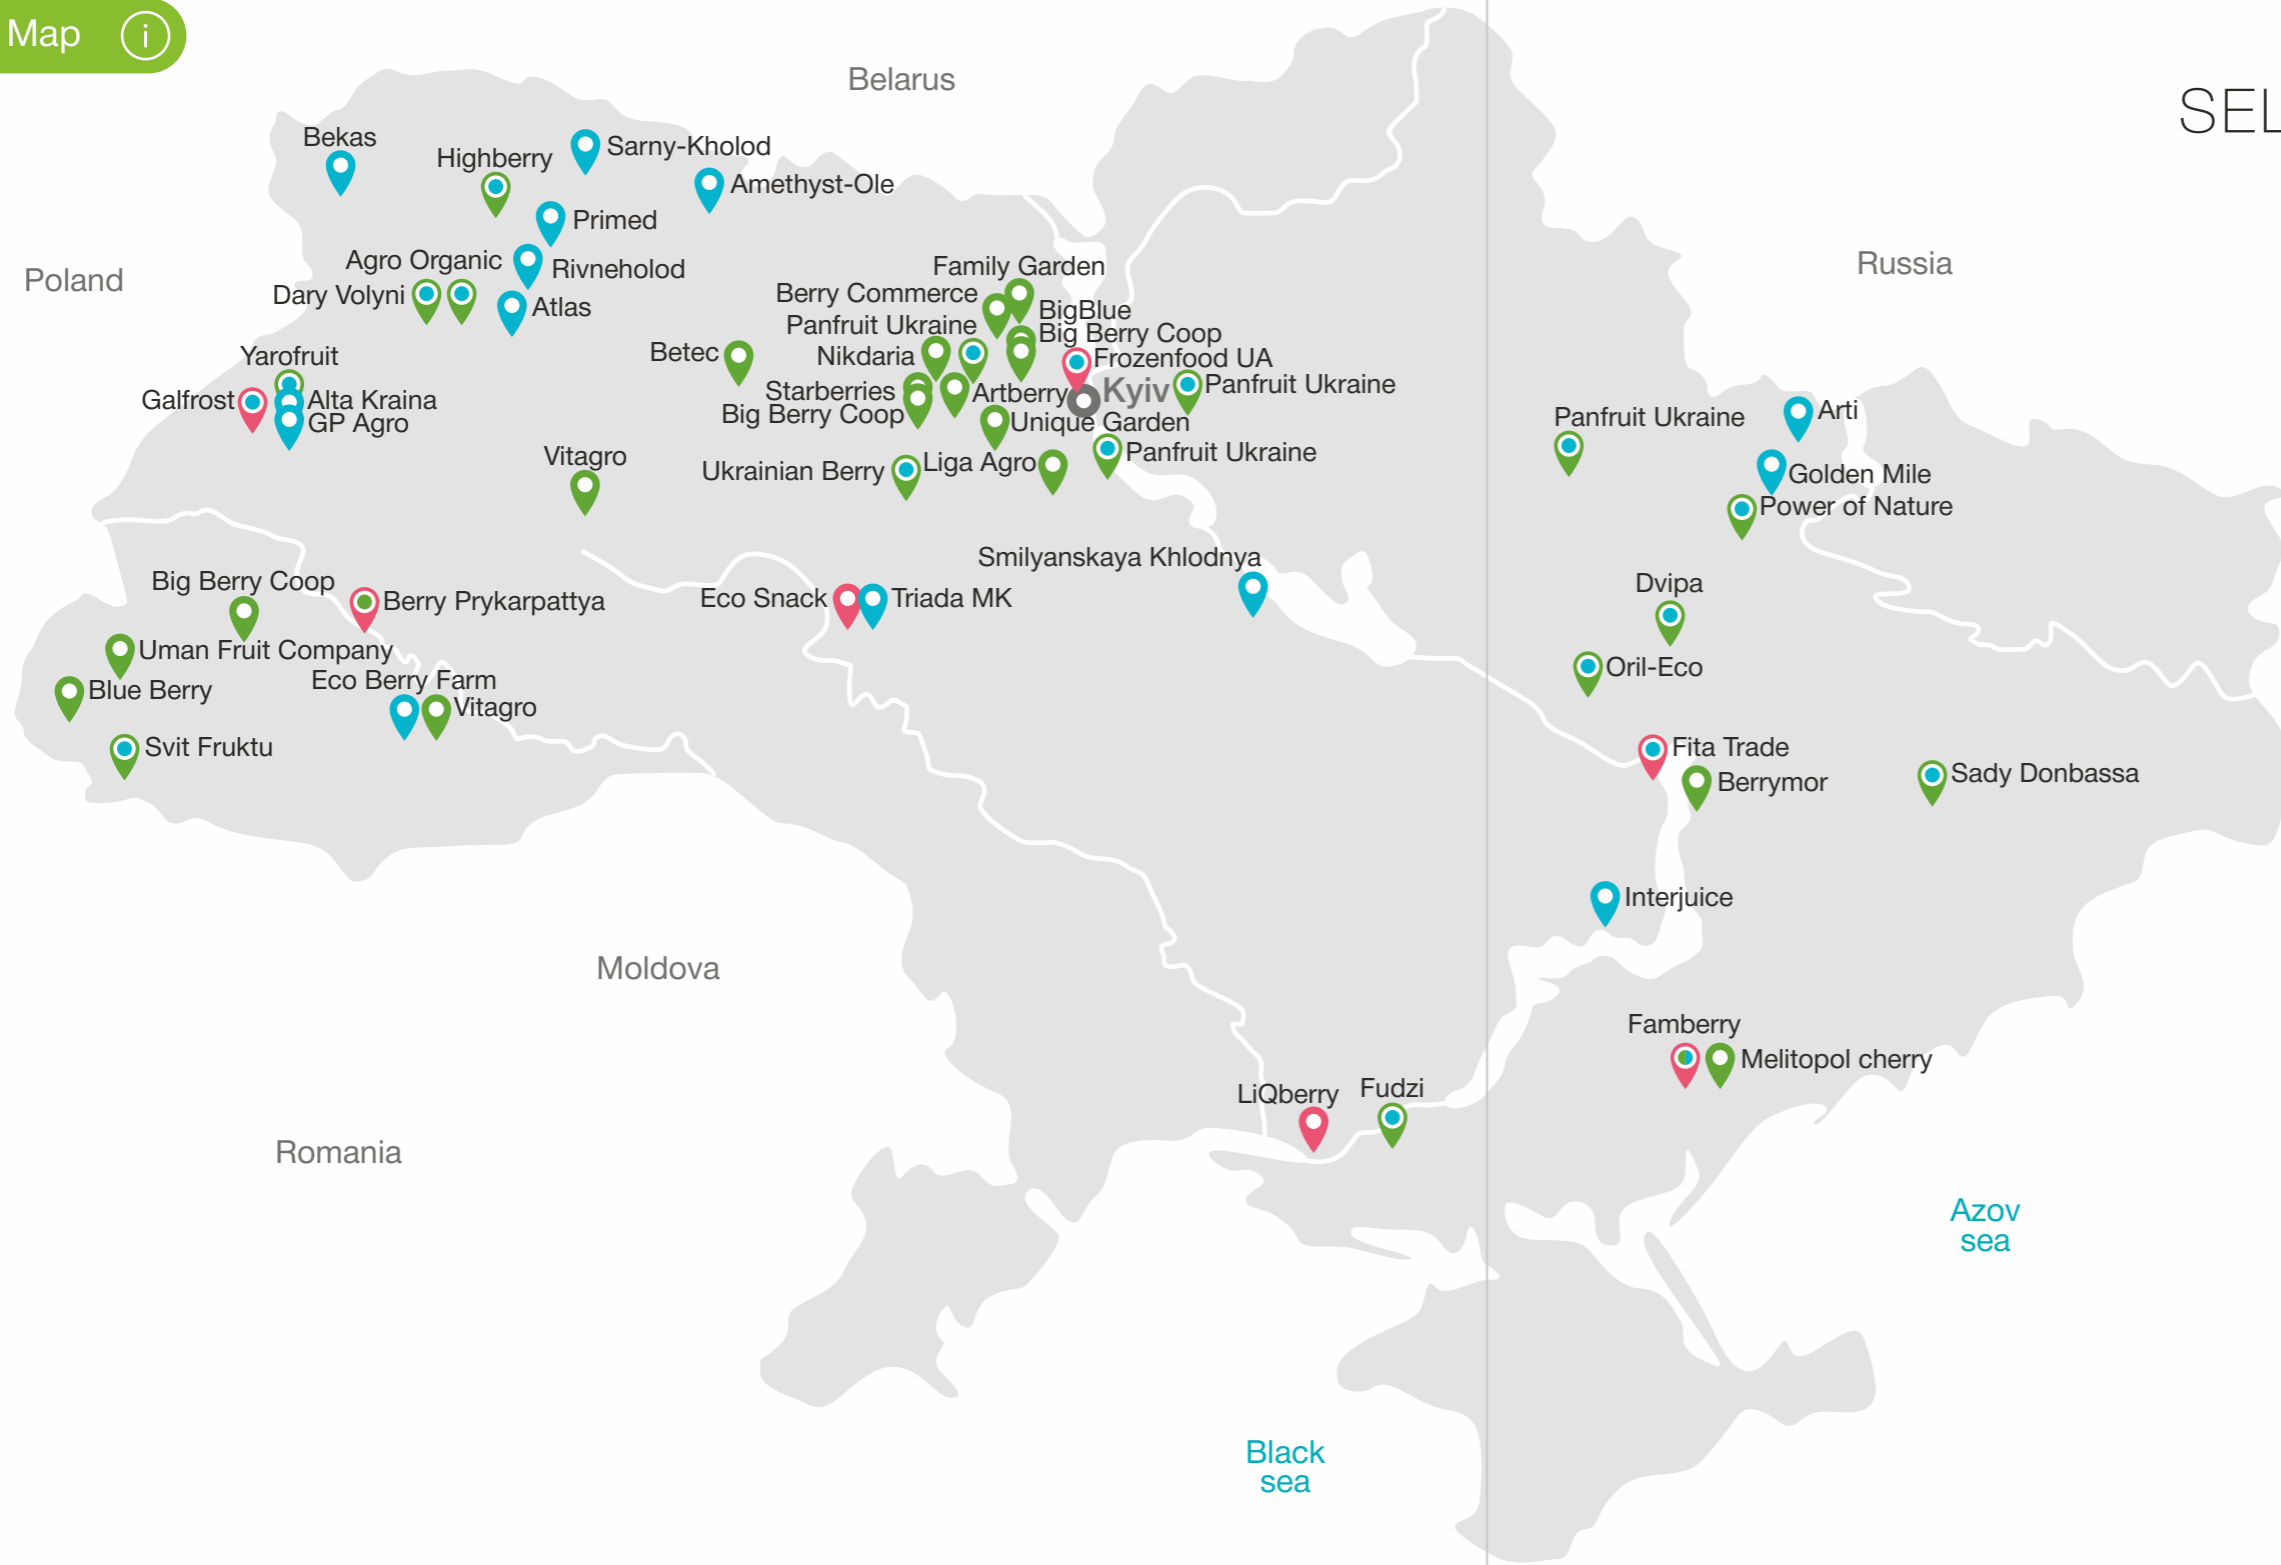

Berry products brought to market by Ukrainian producers include a wide range of both wild and cultivated berries.

Ukraine’s berry export is booming, demonstrating immense growth since 2014 (expanding by more than 15 times in 5 years) and it is also one of the most attractive returns on investment in Ukrainian agriculture.

Processed products enter the domestic and export markets mainly as quick-frozen berries and berry mixtures, juice concentrates, single variety pures, mixed-fruit preparations, and a wide range of easy-to-use quick-frozen combinations.

To meet changing market trends, Ukrainian producers are rapidly expanding their preparation of packaged, quick-frozen, wild, and cultivated berries that meet all standards to be labeled as “Organic”.
